

PRO-12UL User Guide

PRO-12UL is a 2-port USB KVM switch that allows KVM control over 2 USB computer

Connecting the KVM Switch:

1. To install your KVM Switch, you'll want to first connect the included power adapter. In many cases the power adapter will be unnecessary, though it's use is recommended to provide stability.
2. Next you'll want to connect your monitor, keyboard, and mouse. All these will plug into the ports on the right side of the switch, that are labeled 'Console'.
3. Included with the USB KVM Switch are 2 KVM cables which are used to connect your computers to the switch on ports PC1 and PC2. For each cable – the side with a 15-pin connector will plug into the KVM switch, and the side that splits out will connect to your computer's video port and an open USB port.

Operating the KVM Switch:

1. Nothing needs to be installed on any computer to be operated with the KVM Switch. Once it's all plugged in – you should be ready to go.
2. To switch ports manually, you can hit the button on the top of the KVM switch.
3. To operate the KVM with keyboard hotkeys, there are several commands listed below. They will allow you to switch ports, auto-scan, and turn the beep on or off.
