Touch Screen Remote Control

Samsung's HDTV Touch Screen Remote Control is not just a remote. It's 3" color, touch-sensitive screen functions like a mini-TV. If you have to leave the room, you can take the entertainment with you. You can even have the remote screen show different content from the big screen, so you can watch live TV and a Blu-ray™ movie at the same time! Your remote also looks and interacts like a smartphone, letting you find your favorite programs and content quickly and easily. Sync up your entire household with AllShare™, a wireless DLNA® connection allowing you to stream PC, digital camera, cell phone, audio and video files directly to your HDTV or Blu-ray Disc® Player using your remote control. When you want to control Samsung Apps on the TV, the remote's screen changes to a full QWERTY keyboard, making navigation easy. It will even "learn" your preferences, so you have to input certain information just once. There's no need to worry about batteries: your Touch Screen Remote Control can be recharged via the included power cable.
